BESSEY® introduces the DuoKlamp

One handed clamping that can clamp, or spread, at the turn of a dial!

Cambridge, Ontario - No more disassembling the jaws of a clamp to convert it to a spreader. The new DuoKlamp incorporates a handy mini-dial that reverses the action from clamping to spreading...with a simple twist of the dial! And, thanks to the parallel arrangement of the handle and pump lever to the rail, this well-balanced clamp sits easily in one hand.

The DuoKlamp can easily generate a clamping or spreading force of over 260lbs...with one hand! The release lever is perfectly positioned opposite to the pump handle and can be conveniently operated with the thumb in a one-handed operation allowing for quick release or rapid adjustment. Thanks to the large, flat clamping jaws and the softpads on the DuoKlamp, sensitive surfaces, right angles and both rounded and pointed work pieces can be clamped easily with one hand.

BESSEY® has been a market leader in clamps since 1936. As the largest clamp manufacturer in the world, BESSEY® distributes over 1300 different clamping tools in 90 countries worldwide. Under its Erdi brand, BESSEY® is also recognized as a trade leader in cutting tools and snips throughout Western Europe and now offers that technology to the North American market through BESSEY® Tools North America.
